This homesite offers paved roads, public water and sewer, electric, and large lots that provide you the privacy you are looking for without the feeling of isolation. You will see neighbors riding bikes and walking dogs but you will not be able to throw a hamburger from your deck to theirs. Lots of fun wildlife including deer, turkey, and fox. Property owners have hunting rights on hundreds of acres of community common space. There is a community pier and community feeling without the community looking in your back window. Come check out this affordable wooded homesite. A great place to build your private retreat.
