Just about every town has "that" neighborhood. That special place where things come together and just make it a special place. A place people gravitate toward and aspire to be.

12412 Spruce is in the heart of that area. Above a town full of natural hot springs and spas. Spruce, and a handful of streets around it are at the highest point in town. Commanding views of Mt San Jacinto and the valley floor are the special feature that compliments these custom homes.

As you approach the neighborhood, on the aptly named, Skyline drive you will see the homes get larger and more modern. Of course the views just get better and better. Turn left on Fernwood and then make a right on Spruce. The home is the first on your right.

Dream homes always feature the amenities we want but the very best ones always go that extra step. In this meticulously maintained home you will find that elusive quality repeated over and over.<...

ABOUT MICHAEL LAYTON

Experience, Trust and Knowledge Who to Choose! There are many people in the market place eager to help you with real estate. I believe it is VERY important that you choose carefully. The person you choose will be helping you make some pretty important financial decisions. That person needs to have a true knowledge of the entire process. Being a multi-million dollar producer is a good thin...
